Do You Really Need 3 Estimates?

Submitting more than one estimate for payment? Care to guess which one they'll likely elect to pay? Lower estimates may call for lower quality parts and materials, and overlook recommended procedures. Some repairers may write a lower estimate to merely "Seize the Keys" only to call later with "hidden damage"! Submit only one estimate, one from a repairer you select and trust.

It's Good To Know What to Do after an Auto Accident?

Even the most careful drivers may be involved in an auto accident. Knowing what to do after the accident can make the experience a little less frightening, less inconvenient and decrease the chance of unnecessary complications. After an accident:

- Stay Calm. Check for injuries. Life and health are more important than damage to vehicles.
- Call the police, if any injury has occurred or if property damage was sustained.
- Get the facts. Write down the names, addresses and license numbers of persons involved in the accident. Also, write a description of the other vehicles and specific damages to all vehicles involved. Take photos if a camera is available.
- Get more facts. Write down names and addresses of anyone who may have witnessed the accident. This can prevent disagreement concerning how the accident actually happened.
- Write down details about the accident, the location, and circumstances such as weather conditions and visibility. Do report your claim immediately
- Don't leave personal belongings in your vehicle if it needs to be towed away.

Contact Brandon Paint & Body to help arrange towing and/or rental car if needed and to prepare a comprehensive estimate of damage repair. Report your claim to the responsible insurer.
